1.0 Welcome
Welcome to this exciting unit which is designed to introduce students to microcomputer applications which consists of application software packages such as Word Processing, Spreadsheet, Database and Presentation Graphics.
1.1 Course Description
This unit offers students an understanding in respect to all computer users that need to know how to use the microcomputer. The major emphasis will be on using microcomputers with the most popular kinds of computer software used in business and education today including power point, word processing, spreadsheets, database management, presentation design and integration of all applications.
1.2 Learning Targets/Outcomes
On successful completion of this course, students will be able to :
1. Understand File Management (3 Credit Points)
2. Use Word Processing Software (3 Credit Points)
3. Use Spreadsheet Software (3 Credit Points)
4. Use Database Software (3 Credit Points)
5. Use Presentation Software (3 Credit Points)
2.0 Resources
2.1 Text
2.1.1 Parsons-Oja-Beskeen-Cram-Duffy-Friedrichsen-Reding , 2010 or later, Computer Concepts and MS Office 2010, Illustrated Series, COURSE TECHNOLOGY, CENGAGE Learning
2.2 Supplementary Materials
2.2.1. Shelly Cashman, MS Office 2010 or later version
2.3 Moodle
Notices & Announcements, Unit descriptor, Assessment and Assessment details, and supplementary notes (details) will be provided.
3.0 Course Content and Reading References
Week 1: Understand File Management
The students shall be able to:
1.1 Understand folders and files
1.2 Create and save a file
1.3 Explore the files and folders on your computer
1.4 Change file and folder views
1.5 Open, edit, and save files
1.6 Copy files
1.7 Move and rename files
1.8 Search for files, folders, and programs
1.9 Delete and restore files

Dissatisfaction with Assessment
The academic conduct of the students is governed by the University Academic and Students Regulation (UASR). All students must obtain a copy of the UASR from the FNU academic office and familiarize themselves with all academic matters.
Should a student be dissatisfied with either the internal or external assessment, they can take the following steps to get redress of their grievance.
Internal Assessment: The student can refer the work back to the unit coordinator for checking and reassessment. Following this reassessment, if the student is still dissatisfied, the Final Exam: The student can apply for re-check of the grade as per the procedures laid down in the UASR.
Plagiarism and Dishonest Practice Regulations
Plagiarism is taking another person's words or ideas and using them as if they were your own. It can be either deliberate or accidental. Plagiarism is taken very seriously in higher
Actions that constitute plagrism
1. Downloading and turning in a paper from the Web including a Web page or a paper from an essay writing service.
2. Copying and pasting phrases, sentences, or paragraphs into your paper without showing a quotation and adding proper citation.
3. Paraphrasing or summarising a source's words or ideas without proper citation.
4. Including a graph, table or picture from a source without proper citation.
5. Getting so much help from a tutor or writing helper that the paper or part of the paper is no longer honestly your own work.
6. Turning in previously written work when that practice is prohibited by your instructor.
