9. Troubleshooting and support

1. Daily administrator workflow

1. Login and open Admin Dashboard from your name menu. Review dashboard totals, then use the sidebar to open Students, Employers, Jobs, Applications, or Feedback.

2. Resolve organization requests before activating employer contacts. Review pending student/employer accounts and pending jobs.

3. Review applications and update statuses only after a confirmed recruitment decision. Use reports to monitor progress.

Search, filters, sortable headings, and pagination help locate records. Always verify the person, organization, job, and current status before making a change.

2. Students and employer contacts

1. Open Students or Employers. Search for the person, open their profile, and review their details.

2. Use the available add/edit controls to create or correct a student or employer record. Use the account-status controls to approve (Active) or block an account.

3. For employers, confirm that the correct organization is linked and any organization request is resolved before activation. Approving an organization alone does not activate its contacts.

4. Use the password reset action when needed and communicate any replacement password privately. Status-change emails may be sent; read any delivery warning.

Administrators cannot manage staff accounts or delete user accounts. Those actions belong to super administrators. Management cannot make these changes.

3. Organizations and requests

1. Open Organizations under System Setup. Search existing organizations before adding another record.

2. Open a pending request and review the proposed name, address, phone, email, and requesting contact.

3. Approve a new organization, link the request to an existing organization, or reject it with a reason. Check the recorded review decision and notes.

4. Activate the employer contact separately in Employers once its organization link and request are resolved.

Admins and super admins maintain shared organization details. Employer contacts cannot change these themselves. Multiple contacts may belong to one organization but retain separate job ownership.

Only a super administrator can delete organizations. Prefer correcting or linking records over deleting them.

4. Jobs and application decisions

1. Open Jobs. Search and review job details, employer ownership, category, vacancies, location, and closing date.

2. Review employer submissions and use the job status controls to publish approved jobs or block unsuitable jobs. Only active jobs are public.

3. Use Create/Edit to maintain administrative job postings. Supply the required fields, save, and confirm the resulting status.

4. Open Applications. Search by job, company, applicant name/email, or filter by application status. Open permitted application documents and status history.

5. Select the appropriate application status from the available dropdown, confirm the change, then check the result. The change and reviewer are recorded in history; an email is attempted to the applicant.

An unchanged status sends no new notification. If the email fails, the status/history remain saved; contact the applicant directly instead of repeating the status change.

Only super administrators can delete applications. Keep records unless deletion is genuinely necessary.

5. System setup

1. Open Job Types, Categories, or Colleges/Centers under System Setup.

2. Search existing entries first. Use the available add/edit controls to maintain labels, college associations, and active/inactive status.

3. Confirm the saved entry appears in the intended lists. Active setup entries are used in posting/search choices; historical reports may still include inactive records.

Avoid deleting setup records without reviewing their existing job and reporting relationships.

6. Dashboard reports and exports

1. Open Admin Dashboard. Choose Overview, Applications, Placement, Job Types, Categories, Rejection, Employers, or Metrics to view the relevant report.

2. Where filters are shown, choose the date range, college/center, or other criteria, then select Apply. Use Reset to clear that report's filters.

3. Use the report's PDF or Excel/CSV download control. Excel-compatible downloads are CSV files, not XLSX workbooks. Open CSV files with Excel or another spreadsheet application.

The Job Types tab filters by the job category's College/Center, not the applicant's college. Its filters are independent of Placement filters. All colleges/centers includes jobs without an assigned category college.

Placement rates are placed applications divided by total applications, not distinct students. Current application statuses drive placement and rejection counts; percentages display two decimal places.

Check the selected filters and report heading before sharing a download. Reports may include private data. Export timestamps display the configured report timezone (Pacific/Fiji by default).

7. Feedback review

1. Open Feedback from the administration sidebar. Search and use the type filter to locate student or employer feedback.

2. Click a sortable heading to change order, then click again to reverse it. Job and Company sort separately; pagination preserves your selected order.

3. Download PDF or Download Excel exports all matching feedback across all pages, not only the visible page, in the selected order.

Placement feedback is for administrative review. Student feedback is not shared directly with employers, and employer feedback is not shared directly with students.

8. Account settings and security

1. Open your name menu > Account Settings. View Profile shows your saved information; Profile Update opens the editable fields.

2. Update your own details, select the save/update button, and check the confirmation. Correct any errors shown beside fields.

3. Use Change Profile Picture to upload a clear picture. Use Change Password to enter your current password, new password, and confirmation.

If your account requires email verification, changing your primary email requires verification of the new address before continuing.

Use a unique password, keep applicant documents confidential, and select your name > Logout on shared devices. Never share a login.

9. Troubleshooting and support

Pending approval: contact the Placement Officer if approval is delayed. Email verification and administrator approval are separate requirements.

Blocked account: contact an administrator; registering again is not a solution. Unverified email: use the verification/resend link on Login and check your spam folder.

Forgotten password: select Forgot Password on Login, enter your account email, and select Send reset link. Check your inbox and spam folder. Open the single-use link within 60 minutes and enter a new password of at least 8 characters twice. Wait at least one minute between link requests. Resetting a password does not approve or unblock an account or verify its email. If email recovery is unavailable, contact an administrator for student/employer accounts or a super administrator for staff accounts.

Read submission messages carefully. A notification-email warning may mean the record was saved but the email failed; check the saved record before submitting again.

Use Contact Us to reach the Placement Officer. Include the page, action, time, and error message, but never send your password or unnecessary personal documents.
